Erika Schillebeeckx and Justine de Moriamé, two Belgian artists, are working as a duo under the name of KRJST in the textile art and design field since 2012. In addition to their research around compositions, shapes, colors, textures and yarns, their work is also engaging and reflecting the notion of space and surrounding. Those notions makes them naturally develop and exchange around an expansive vision about how art and design can integrate and live in private and public spaces. By sharing their passion for creativity and art, their aim is to bring beauty and quality into everyday life and connect people with art in their daily life.

Inspired by the Japanese Wabi-Sabi philosophy, KRJST furniture handcraftedly captures the essence of materials (mostly Belgian wood, metal and printed KRJST fabrics) and highlights its beauty in the most natural way. Authentic, colorful, fresh, comfortable and local, each piece results from an exclusive partnership between artists, architects and craftsmen.
